Salt Pond Visitor Center to Host Jon Vaughan Photography Exhibit and Presentation

Cape Cod National Seashore Chief of Interpretation Sue Moynihan has announced that on Saturday, April 15 photographer Jon Vaughan will present a public program about his work. The 2 PM program at Eastham's Salt Pond Visitor Center is free and open to the public. Mr. Vaughan's presentation is part of a series called "Perspectives: Seeing Cape Cod National Seashore Through the Creative Arts." The series is sponsored by the national seashore and its partner organization, Friends of the Cape Cod National Seashore.

Jon Vaughan is a well-known Cape photographer. He is the author of Coastal Effects: Cape Cod, Martha's Vineyard and Nantucket. For more than 20 years, he has traveled the dirt roads, hiked the forest trails and combed the sandy beaches to photograph the extraordinary moments common to this beautiful peninsula and its neighboring islands. Coastal Effects is a photographic tribute to Cape Cod, Martha's Vineyard and Nantucket. Divided into monthly chapters, Coastal Effects features exquisite color images that depict the diversity of weather, the unique geographical features and the distinctive architecture of the land encompassed by the coastline. Images are complemented by diverse essays, as well as a practical discussion of technique. Vaughan's work has received local and national recognition, including the Graphic Design USA award. His program will include slides of his work, select essays from Coastal Effects, and a discussion on taking photographs of national seashore places.
